(6-10) Read the following passage carefully.

“My fifth voyage was made on a trade ship that I owned. Some merchants made them ready to be my companion.

We soon set sail after days, we threw anchor at a deserted island. There I discovered a rock’s egg as I had seen on my second voyage. I showed it to my other companions one of them noticed it was about to hatch. He took his axe and asked the others to break the roc’s egg. I advised them not to do so but all in vain. They broke the roc’s egg, took the hatchling, roasted it and ate it up.

Just as they finished eating the roc’s egg, the parent birds flew in. We saw them from far and all of us rushed to the ship in panic. In minutes, our ship was sailing on the sea waters. But to our horror, we saw the rocs following our ship overhead. They held huge rocks in their claws which they dropped on our ship. As the rocks hit the ship it broke into pieces and sunk with all my companions on board. By sheer luck I survived when large waves swept me on to the shores of an Island.

Now arrange the following sentences in a sequential and meaningful order.

1. We anchored at an island.
2. The parent birds flew in when they finished eating.
3. He took his axe.
4. They dropped the huge rocks on the ship.
